CLASSIC COCKTAIL

- OLD-FASHIONED 280
This is the original “cock-tail” When the word cocktail was invented in 1806, it was used to specifically describe this drink. The original recipe did not contain the modern addition of muddled orange and cherry.
- BLOODY MARY 280
This famous cocktail was popularized when it was brought to America from Harry’s New York Bar in 1920s Paris
- COSMOPOLITAN 280
Toby Cecchini in New York City created the modern version of the Cosmopolitan, popularized world-wide by the television show Sex and the City.
- LONG ISLAND 350
One popular story makes the claim that this cocktail was first served in the late 1970s at the Oak Beach Inn in Babylon, Long Island, New York by a bartender nicknamed Rosebud. Another recently surfaced story says that the Long Island Iced Tea was actually invented in Tennessee in order to disguise the consumption of alcohol during American Prohibition.
- METROPOLITAN 260
This is the classic metropolitan recipe, although an entirely different modern recipe exists which a cosmopolitan is made with currant vodka instead of citrus vodka.
- SINGAPORE SLING 280
Many recipes for this cocktail exist today, as the Long Bar at the Raffles Hotel in Singapore has admitted to losing the recipe of the drink’s creator Ngiam Tong Boon.
- MAI-TAI 280
There are so many different “secret” recipes to this drink, that it is nearly impossible to be sure which was the original. However, it is usually believed that the recipe created by Victor Bergeron in 1944 for Trader Vic’s restaurant was the first one. Whether it was or not, it certainly is one of the most popular ways to make this cocktail.
- DAIQUIRI 260
It is believed that the daiquiri was invented by an American named Jennings Cox living in Daiquiri, Cuba. It is also said to be a common favorite of writer and avid drinker Ernest Hemingway. Available frozen price.

CLASSIC COCKTAIL

- CAIPIROSKA 280
It is a popular cocktail in Brazil, Paraguay, Uruguay and Argentina. It is also sometimes known as Caipivodka and Caipirodka. It has grown in popularity in recent years as access to international vodkas continues to diversify in South America.
- GRASSHOPPER 280
The drink reputedly originated at Tujague's, a landmark bar in the French Quarter of New Orleans, Louisiana, and gained popularity during the 1950s and 1960s throughout the American South. A grasshopper is a sweet, mint-flavored, after-dinner drink.
- PINACOLADA 280
The earliest known story states that in the 19th century, Puerto Rican pirate Roberto Cofresí, to boost his crew's morale, gave them a beverage or cocktail that contained coconut, pineapple and white rum. This was what would be later known as the famous piña colada. The Pina Colada is a sweet, rum-based cocktail made with rum, cream of coconut, and pineapple juice, usually served either blended or shaken with ice.
- TOM COLLINS 280
A drink known as a John Collins has existed since the 1860s at the very least and is believed to have originated with a head waiter of that name who worked at Limmer's Old House in Conduit Street in Mayfair, which was a popular London hotel and coffee house around 1790–1817.
- WHISKEY SOUR 300
The oldest historical mention of a whisky sour prepared in the world comes from a newspaper published in Wisconsin in 1870. In 1962, the Universidad del Cuyo published a story which cited a Peruvian newspaper called El Comercio de Iquique as indicating that Elliott Stubb created the "whisky sour" in 1872. El Comercio de Iquique was published by Modesto Molina between 1874 and 1879.
- TEQUILA SUNRISE 280
The modern drink originates from California in the early 1970s, after an earlier one created in the 1930s in Arizona. The cocktail is named for its appearance when served, with gradations of color resembling a sunrise.
- SEX ON THE BEACH 280
There are several stories but we like this one: The earliest known invention of the cocktail and name dates back to 1987 in Florida, USA. A distributor had just begun to sell a new product, peach schnapps, in the autumn. A young bartender named Ted, working at Confetti's Bar, mixed up a peach schnapps, vodka, orange juice and grenadine cocktail. When Ted began to sell the drink, he was asked what it was called. On the spot, Ted thought what the main reason was that people came to Florida for their Spring break – it was The Beach and Sex. "Sex on the Beach!" he replied

CHAMPAGNE BASED COCKTAILS

BELINI 990

Also known as the Classic Champagne Cocktail, this drink first originated in 1899 as the winner of a New York cocktail competition.

MARTINI 280

Many cocktails in a stemmed glass are called “martinis”, but the true martini is a classic made with gin and dry vermouth.

MARTINI, DIRTY 280

This is a martini cocktail made cloudy (“dirty”) with olives and olive brine.

MARTINI, PERFECT 280

The original martini cocktail was made with sweet vermouth. The term “perfect” refers to a cocktail made with half sweet and half dry vermouth.

MARTINI ESPRESSO 280

This is a dry version of an espresso martini. It can easily be made sweeter to a guest’s preference.

MARTINI FRENCH 280

The combination of pineapple juice and Chambord, a deep red black raspberry liqueur from France dating back to the reign of Louis XIV, makes this a very popular “Martini” cocktail.

GIBSON 28

A variation on the Martini, the Gibson utilizes a cocktail onion as a garnish to replace the olives or twist. One story about the history of this cocktail describes how a Mr Gibson, to give the impression he was drinking with his clients while remaining sober, would have the bartender fill up a martini glass with cold water and place a pickled onion in it to distinguish it from the rest. Supposedly, someone ordered a martini with an onion as well and soon all of his clients had pickled onions as garnishes and Mr Gibson was no longer able to separate his non-alcoholic version from the others.
